The Bradbury Piano Warehouses Seem to Offer the Best Values and Easiest Terms—and are Doing the Business of Washington.

"The busiest Christmas season in years," said Mr. W. P. Van Winkle, manager of the Bradbury Piano Warehouses, 1225 Pa. ave., in answer to the writer's query regarding holiday business. "I notice a growing tendency each year to give useful and substantial presents, like pianos, for Christmas. Nobody thinks of buying the trash and fancy articles nowadays that were sold in former years. The stores don't keep them any more—the demand is for articles of real use. Our regular business, the piano business, is going strong. This, taken in connection with the fact that we show the largest stock of pianos in Washington, and offer easy terms that no competitor can meet are the reasons I ascribe for our enormous Christmas business. The purchaser can have any piano in this house on almost any terms he or she may ask. Another point, we are exceptionally liberal in our allowance for old square pianos, which we have no trouble in fixing up and selling again. We take the old piano and allow full cash value in exchange for the new Bradbury, which is delivered at once—without any cash outlay—until later in the winter, to suit the convenience of the purchaser."

"We have some elegant second-hand upright pianos here at $155, $175, $195, $210, $225, etc., that are easily worth double. Some of them are as good as new. Any one can afford a good piano at these prices—especially when we make the terms $5 or $6 monthly payments. "We also have about fifty fine square pianos of leading makes, including Steinways, Chickering, Vose, Knabe, Stodart, Hallett & Davis, and many others of equal prominence. These we mark at about one-fourth their value—$25, $35, $50, $65, $75 and $100—on $1 weekly payments. "We are obliged to keep open evenings to supply the Christmas trade for pianos—and those who haven't leisure in the day time will receive our best attention in the evenings."
